£1,000 gift gets fund off to a flyer

OUR St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal has got off to a flying start with close to £3,000 already handed over and pledges of hundreds more to come. One individual chipped in £1,000 and Haverhill Rotary Club has offered a major boost to the appeal with a share of proceeds from its Charity Golf Classic event in June. A local rock band is planning to hold a charity gig for the appeal and organisers of regular charity bingo sessions have decided to give half the proceeds of their next event to the fund.

But we still need much more cash to reach our target of £40,000 so that St Nicholas Hospice can provide services for people in the Haverhill area in their own homes. So far our appeal has been supported by individuals donating £20, to one anonymous employee at International Flavours and Fragrances who gave £1,000 to the fund. Sue Sweet, Human Resources manager, said fundraising from the company's 50th anniversary celebrations last year went to the hospice and the staff member concerned had asked for cash owed to him to be paid to the hospice instead. ■ Turn to Page 2.

Woman inches from being crushed in car

BY Jack Grove

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A WOMAN from Haverhill had a lucky escape when her car was crushed against a tree.

The accident happened when her car was in collision with a lorry at an accident blackspot on the A1307.

It was the second serious lorry crash in less than a month causing residents in Little Abington to demand improvements to a pedestrian crossing on the road.

The lucky survivor, who is 29, was cut from her car by firefighters and taken to Addenbrooke's Hospital, Cambridge, with serious, but not life threatening injuries. Her condition yesterday was described as improving.

She was driving through the 40mph zone on Saturday morning when her Volkswagen Polo was in a head-on collision with a Volvo truck.

The crash sent the car flying through a garden fence, crushing it against a tree.

The young woman was trapped in the upside-down car, which was pinned by the lorry against the tree, as gallons of diesel from the truck spilled out on to the pavement.

The driver of the lorry, a 40-year-old man from Haverhill, was unhurt.

Louise Brock, 47, a nursery manager, whose fence was destroyed by the crash, said: "It was a miracle the lady survived – she was inches away from being crushed. This was the second time a lorry has been involved in a smash on this stretch of road in less than a month.

■ SMASH . . . the Polo in the crash on Saturday became wedged between a lorry and a tree.

"The problem is the pedestrian refuge in the middle of the road, which has been struck five times since it was installed four years ago.

"On January 10, a parked car was hit by a lorry and it narrowly missed a pedestrian. It is only a matter of time before someone is killed.

"The road is just not wide enough for HGVs to pass through. My son drives HGVs and says there is minimal space either side of a truck – about a foot – when it passes the refuge.

"I supported the pedestrian refuge when it was installed in 2004 because it was supposed to help people to reach the bus stop.

"But it is now a danger to motorists and pedestrians. No-one is safe standing on the refuge and it is a risk to road users rather than a help.

£1,000 gift gets appeal off to a flying start

She said: "It is lovely, we are delighted, it is quite inspirational really. He said he would like to give it to the hospice and when we saw in the paper about your appeal, we thought great, it can go towards that."

Gary McKerrill, a member of the band Umbrella Assassins, is planning a charity concert at Haverhill Arts Centre in April or May, featuring his own band as well as other local bands Alice Band and Indigo. He said: "We have spoken for a while about doing a charity gig and when we saw about your appeal in the paper we thought it would be great to do it for something local like that. Our singer's nan was at the hospice when she passed away and my wife's nan, so we all sort of know about the place." The appeal is off to a brilliant start, but we want to hear about all your plans to help. We will publicise your event to help raise as much cash as possible, and will be publishing a regular diary of events and a roll of honour of those who contribute.

Ex-mayor signs up to campaign

HAVERHILL'S former mayor and current county councillor Tim Marks is urging residents to "dig deep" and support the Hospice at Home Appeal launched by the Weekly News last week.

Cllr Marks was one of the first to get behind the campaign and encourage others to do the same.

He said: "I think they provide an extremely valuable service and anything we can do to help them along would be great."

"They do not get as much funding from the Government as they would like, it is kept going by public donations and I think it's important that people realise that."

"I think the appeal is an excellent idea, I am sure a lot of patients will receive even more help if there is a Hospice at Home service."

"The hospice does an absolutely wonderful job, I have experience of St Nicholas Hospice and they do sterling work. They give tremendous support not just to the person who is ill, but to the whole family."

■ BACKING... Cllr Tim Marks supports the appeal.

How can you help?

WE CANNOT reach our target without your help – so the Weekly News wants to hear from anyone who is organising fund-raising discos, barbecues, dances or other events to boost the hospice appeal. Tell us what you are planning and we will help publicise your event to make sure it is a success and raises as much money as possible. If you already have an event organised, why not pledge all or part of the proceeds to the appeal and benefit from the extra publicity to help a really good cause. A special bank account has been set up at Barclay's Bank.

Cash or cheques can be paid in directly to the St Nicholas Hospice at Home Appeal, sort code 201612, account number 80981842. An on-line donations page has also been created at www.justgiving.com/haverhillweeklynews, which also gives details of how to donate by text, and you can donate by phone on (01284) 715582, at the hospice shop in High Street, Haverhill, or the Weekly News office in Queen Street, Haverhill.

Caring residents give a big thumbs up to 'marvellous idea'

CARING residents of Haverhill are giving a big "thumbs up" to the Weekly News Hospice at Home Appeal and promises of cash are already pouring in. We asked some of the shoppers in the town centre what they thought of the plan to help raise £40,000 for the St Nicholas Hospice so that patients in the Haverhill area can be cared for in their own homes, rather than having to travel into Bury St Edmunds.

Dave Phillips, of Rowan Close, Haverhill, said: "I think it is a good idea. It is always a good idea that people who are not in the best of health do not have to travel. I am a taxi driver and some of the people I carry are in a poorly state and seem like they should not really be out. I am sure they would rather receive care at home."

Alaistair Drurie, of Blois Road, Steeple Bumpstead, said: "It is a great idea. I have not had any experience of the work of the hospice, but it is a horrendous road to Bury St Edmunds. It is a jolly dangerous road where drivers go incredibly fast and there is nowhere to overtake, so this sounds like a very good idea."

Elizabeth Mahoney, of Forest Glade, Haverhill, said: "I think it is a wonderful idea, I really do. I have known someone who

■ Dave Phillips

■ Alaistair Drurie

■ Elizabeth Mahoney

■ Wendy Bennett

■ Pat Loveridge

■ Del Godfrey

■ Emma Foreman

■ Margaret Onion

received very good treatment, they care for people wonderfully. You can get to Cambridge easily from Haverhill, but not to Bury."

Wendy Bennett, of the Boyton Hall estate, Haverhill, said: "My father was in the hospice, but he would rather have been cared for at home. I don't think hospices are for everyone, some people find it more traumatic than actually being ill. If they can come here to see people in their homes it would be a better idea."

Pat Loveridge, of Covehite Close, Haverhill, said: "It is definitely a good idea, it would give support for carers as well. My father was looked after at St Nicholas Hospice and the care he received was absolutely brilliant. I am now looking after my mother, who is 93. It would give respite to carers, it is so much easier for professionals to care for people. It is not easy to get to the hospice if you have not got a car, I think the last bus goes at about 5.30pm."

Del Godfrey, of Helions Walk, Haverhill, said: "I think it is a very good idea. I have a car so I can drive to Bury, but a lot of people cannot get there very easily." Emma Foreman, of Henderson Close, Haverhill, said: "I think it is a good idea, there are not that many facilities in the town. I have only lived here for five years, so I don't know a lot about the hospice, but I have heard it has a good reputation."

Margaret Onion, of Helions Walk, Haverhill, said: "We read about it in the paper and I think it is a marvellous idea. Anything that helps the hospice is jolly good, they do a good job, you cannot fault it. "I have lost two members of my family to cancer, including my husband, and this would have really helped, it would have been a lot easier for him."

'Speed limits on this road are too confusing'

"It was very distressing to see a young woman being cut free from a car in my front garden, but I fear someone will actually lose their life unless something is done."

The crash underlined calls for action on the A1307 after five people died on the so-called "road of death" in the past two years.

Among them was Imogen Barker, 15, from Shudy Camps, who died last March when she was hit by a car. She was crossing the road after getting off a bus at Horseheath Green junction.

In August, motorcyclist Nicholas Williams died after a collision with a van close to the Hildersham crossroads.

A speed assessment report is being prepared by Cambridgeshire County Council, which has made the road a "top priority" for safety ■ DISTRESSED . . . Louise Brock by the pedestrian refuge which, she says, lorries have to squeeze by.

Mrs Brock added: "There are too many different speed limits on the A1307 – sometimes it's 60mph, sometimes it's 40mph or 20mph. It's too confusing for drivers.

"We need to see speed limits harmonised, with a 30mph limit for villages and 50mph on other parts of the road."

Esther Cornell, spokesman for safety group Access 1307, said

Saturday's collision underlined the need for improved safety measures. She said: "It was quite amazing this driver survived, as it was a very serious crash.

"This is a particular problem at this pedestrian crossing and it needs to be investigated and made safe.

"But the problem with HGVs on this road will only get worse.

"Only recently a planning application for a distribution centre in Haverhill was approved, which will see another 250 lorry journeys a day."

A county council spokesman said: "We were extremely concerned to hear about Saturday's accident and send our best wishes to the injured driver.

"We will have to wait for police reports about the cause.

"However, the traffic island is well-established, clearly signposted and lies within a 40mph speed zone.

"About 1,500 lorries successfully negotiate this section of road every day."

He added: "We are aware there have been a small number of incidents involving lorries in this area.

"As a result of a meeting with residents, councillors and the A1307 Access group on January 29, we are planning discussions with Abington Parish Council and residents to determine whether there are any improvements that need to be made."

The council has already made a pre-emptive request for funds for schemes which do not require engineering work.

The council says changes to the section from Linton towards Horseheath could be completed quickly.

Cockatiel plea

BIRD enthusiast Julie Hawker is hoping someone can help her find a distinctive looking cockatiel which escaped as it was being put into a new aviary. The bird disappeared from Westward Deals, Kedington, on Tuesday, January 29. Anyone with information about it should contact Mrs Hawker on (01440) 703827.

Digger is taken

A DIGGER was taken from a building site and driven over a playing field at Haverhill. The incident happened at Homefield Road, Haverhill between 1pm on Saturday, February 2, and 7am the next day when the digger was taken from a building site. Damage was caused to the field and a fence before the digger was left in the field. Anyone with information about the incident should call Pc Sarah Reavill at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Burglaries linked

AN ATTEMPTED burglary and the theft of a bird table at Stoke-by-Clare are being linked by police. Between 9am and 5pm on Friday, February 8, a hole was cut in the window of a farmhouse, but no entry was gained. Also at Stoke-by-Clare between 9.30 and 10.45am on Wednesday, February 6, a bird table was stolen from a front garden. Calls in relation to these incidents should be made to Pc Brendan McKenna at the St Edmundsbury Rural South Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Parts found

THIEVES entered an insecure garage and stole a laptop bag and engineering parts. The burglary happened at Marcus Close, Haverhill between 11pm on Thursday, February 7, and 8am the next morning. The stolen items were all later found in the street. Anyone with information about the incident should call Sgt Darren Lamboll at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Family in lucky escape as vandals set fire to house

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A FAMILY owe their lives to a neighbour after vandals set fire to a bin at their home.

Mandy and Peter Walpole were asleep in their home when they were woken by shouting and banging on the back door.

The incident at Lanseer Court, Haverhill, in the early hours of Sunday morning, was one of four reported across the town, where yobs went on the rampage, including a spree of vandalism with more than 60 cars damaged.

Police are appealing for public help to catch the culprits.

Haverhill Inspector Adrian Dawson said: "We are treating this series of damage extremely seriously, this has caused significant distress and cost to a large number of people in the town and a dedicated team has been set up to investigate these crimes."

Recovering from her ordeal, Mrs Walpole said that at first they thought the banging was a prank, but they then saw smoke and an orange glow outside the back door, which is at the bottom of the stairs.

Mrs Walpole said: "At first we thought it was drunks, because you get a lot of that up here. Then we heard someone shouting 'get out, your house is on fire'."

She added: "You cannot see the back door from any of the bedrooms and we would not have woken up if the man had not continued to bang so consistently to wake us up."

Mr and Mrs Noble were in the house with their four children Natasha, 19, Reba, nine, Nikita, five, and Jake, four. Their cousin Kira Rubens, 15, was with them.

Mrs Noble added: "If the fire had gone through the door to the bottom of the stairs we would have been trapped upstairs."

"I am very angry, these people had no consideration for those in the house. It does not bear thinking about what could have happened.

"We probably owe this man our lives, the whole house could have gone up."

■ ORDEAL BY FIRE . . . the Noble family, who were asleep in their house at the time.

Picture: Keith Jones 466582.

Mr Walpole said his car had been one of those damaged, some having obscenities scratched into the paintwork.

Insp Bruce Gent, of Suffolk police, said the incident was the most serious of the large number on Sunday morning and had been potentially life-threatening.

He added: "This was a serious outbreak of arson and vandalism and has caused thousands of pounds of damage."

Anyone with information should call Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

■ A 16-year-old male from Haverhill has been arrested on suspicion of committing criminal damage. He has been released on police bail to return to Bury St Edmunds on March 4.

Dane back in court

DISGRACED former councillor Mabon Dane who was convicted of possessing child pornography has appeared in court again accused of breaching the community sentence imposed on him.

Dane, 38, appeared at Ipswich Crown Court on Wednesday on charges brought by Essex County Council of failing to comply with his community order and for behaviour considered unacceptable by his supervising officer, in January this year.

The former Haverhill councillor, now said to be of Gazelle Court, Colchester, denied the charges and was released on unconditional bail for a further hearing to be held on April 4.

In July 2006, Dane was convicted after a trial at Ipswich Crown Court of possessing indecent images of children on his computer. As well as being put on the Sex Offenders' Register he was sentenced to a 36-month community penalty and ordered to do 80 hours unpaid community work.

Dane founded the Haverhill Representative Alliance Party which swept to power on Haverhill Town Council in May, 2003, but later folded after acrimonious battles with other councillors and town clerk Gordon Mussett.

Pancake Party: In keeping with the tradition of Shrove Tuesday, an enjoyable Pancake Party, hosted by the Rector, the Rev John Eley, was held at the Rectory on Tuesday evening. The well-supported evening provided an opportunity for visitors to come and go but kept the Rector busy with the frying pan preparing the pancakes, which were very much enjoyed. During the evening, some 200 pancakes were prepared, and lived up to the high culinary reputation acquired as "The Cooking Canon" whilst appearing on television.

■ At their February meeting, held at the Royal British Legion Hall on Thursday, the Women's Institute members welcomed a local man. Ian Evans, a helicopter pilot, gave anecdotes on his career, including flying many famous people, flying an ambulance, and taking pictures of the Olympic Games in Athens.

His most exciting time was when he was hijacked at gunpoint over Market Harborough, and forced to fly to Gartree Prison. He had to land in the prison exercise yard, where two prisoners jumped aboard the helicopter. This was the one and only time – before or since – that a helicopter had been used for a prison break in the UK, although it was a fairly frequent occurrence in the USA and in France.

Mr Evans was thanked for a most interesting talk.

Students in the pink to help charity

COLLEGE students who spent a day dressed in pink have raised £1,574 for charity. Think Pink day at West Suffolk College, Bury St Edmunds raised the grand total for Cancer Research UK. Rachel Hadfield, area volunteer manager from Cancer Research UK, collected the cheque. She said: "Thank you so much for the amazing amount of money that has been raised. Cancer Research UK receives very little funding from the government, so we rely overwhelmingly on the support of the public. "People like yourselves, and the money you raise, are vital to the charity and its work. Our vision at Cancer Research UK is: Together we will beat cancer. We hope to do this with your continued support." Anita Ayre, who presented the cheque, co-ordinated the Think Pink Day in October 2007, putting in a tremendous amount of hard work and dedication. Cancer Research UK is the world's leading independent organisation dedicated to cancer research, and is the largest single funder of cancer research in the UK.

Benefice Service, Lt Bradley, 10am Church in the Field service, community centre, 10.20am. Monday, February 18: RBL Bingo, at the Legion Hall, 8pm. Tuesday, February 19: Monthly meeting of the parish council, at the library, 7.40pm for parishioners question time, followed by parish council business.

■ The annual Christingle service was held at the parish church on Sunday morning, conducted by Lay Elder Stephen Diddams, attended by a large congregation, including a good turn-out of Scouts, Cubs and Beavers, who participated in the service by reading the lessons, leading prayers and taking the collection, which was being donated to charity. Christingles were distributed to all, and in his address Stephen reflected on the meaning of the Christingle, with its orange, red ribbon and fruits, representing the world, the blood of Christ and the fruits of the Earth. Suitable hymns were chosen for the service, with Paul Davis as organist.

■ In his sixth newsletter, the Headteacher of Kedington Primary School, Darren Woodward, reflected on how time flies, as spring has already arrived, with the early appearance of flowers, and continues on to the intrepid bunch of workers who, a few Saturdays ago, created a base for the school greenhouse and shed.

If all goes well, it is hoped the greenhouse and possibly the shed will be in position for expanding the children's growing repertoire on their return from half-term.

There is a strong element of sustainability built into the school plans, and if parents would like to know more about this and about the school's general direction in the curriculum, Mr Woodward would be pleased to meet them at a coffee morning on Friday, February 22, after the family assembly.

The school is in the process of putting together a travel plan in conjunction with Ketton Early Birds, as part of its quest for the Healthy School status.

At present, it has four main aims, but there is scope for more if suitable suggestions come forward, and there are possibilities for funding these aims, but a working party will be needed to put together ideas and help co-ordinate putting the plan into action.

These aims include asking the council to introduce speed restrictions at certain points in the village and to set up a 'Walking Bus' to encourage safe and healthy walking to school.

The school council have announced that the sum raised from UNICEF's Day For Change this year is £150.

Thanks are extended to all those who assisted and offered their support to possible lunchtime/after-school clubs.

■ TASTY SNACKS . . . pupils from Coupals Primary School proudly show off their Fair Trade goodie bags. Picture: Keith Heppell 465833.

Pupils enjoy a Fair Trade treat

PUPILS from a primary school paid a visit to their local supermarket to learn about Fair Trade chocolate and got the chance to eat some too. The youngsters from Coupals

Primary School in Haverhill were invited along to the Co-op store in Jubilee Walk, Haverhill, to hear about why the store promotes Fair Trade chocolate, as well as other goods such as bananas, which give a better deal to the farmers who grow them. As well as tasting the chocolate the pupils were also given goodie bags of Fair Trade fruit to take home with them.

Man in Samurai attack avoids jail

A MAN who mutilated a pub-goer's hand with a Samurai sword has escaped a jail sentence.

Grant Richardson, 28, used the "wicked, vicious weapon" against a group of people following earlier "incidents" at the Bull pub in Haverhill.

Ipswich Crown Court heard from prosecutor Ian Pells that the trouble started when a confrontation between a friend of Richardson and a girl was broken up by pub door staff.

Despite a group of people with the girl telling Richardson they wanted no trouble he brushed past three of them, including a London man, Leslie Merle.

Richardson had rounded on them and said: "That's it, I'm going to get my stick." As the group approached his home in Western Avenue, Haverhill, Richardson came out carrying what at first Mr Merle thought was a stick.

Mr Merle then approached Richardson and grabbed the weapon, only realising it was a sword as it severed a tendon and artery.

Mr Merle, a fabrication welder, needed reconstructive surgery and physiotherapy. He was left unable to do his usual job and had to work in his employer's office instead. He had also been left unable to sleep well, the court heard.

When arrested, Richardson told police he had fetched the sword from his bedroom to act as a deterrent because he feared his friend, who had been at The Bull with him, would be attacked.

Mitigating, Richard Potts said

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Richardson had been worried about the approaching group of people and wanted to avoid any risk to a leg injury he already had.

Richardson said in a statement to police: "I accept that, in hindsight, it was a stupid thing to have done".

Mr Potts said it had never been Richardson's intention to inflict any injuries with the sword.

Imposing a 12-month prison sentence, suspended for 12 months, Judge David Goodin said: "You are not going to prison today - just."

He said any more offences would land him in prison, adding: "It will be like the Sword of Damocles hanging over you."

"You need to learn to control yourself, not to take wicked, vicious weapons to a fight, even on your own property.

"You need to grow up."

Richardson was ordered to do 100 hours of unpaid community work and pay £250 compensation to Mr Merle.

He must keep an 8 p.m. - 5.30 a.m. curfew for the next six weeks and the sword, which police had seized, is to be destroyed.

In Memoriam

BALL Roy Lawrence

Died February 19th, 2000.

We once had something special, that money couldn't buy, we had a very special dad and had to say goodbye.

Sometimes we think we're dreaming, we still struggle to believe it's true, from the minute your heart stopped beating, ours shattered too.

Always remembered and greatly missed.

SAM'S THE WORD

News from Samuel Ward Upper School and Technology College

WITH half term now upon us, this will give the students a chance to relax as well as do some pieces of work.

■ We recently held the West Suffolk Youth Forum at Samuel Ward which sees students from various local schools debate important issues for young people around Haverhill and Bury St Edmunds.

Ideas generated from these topics can then be used for improving the local community. This was a very useful event for all those who participated.

■ A reminder to parents that the school's next pupil review day is on February 21.

This enables the teachers to talk to parents about setting targets and aims for pupils as they prepare for exams in May.

■ There was also a trip recently for leisure and tourism students when Mrs Hough took them to Duxford to see what skills are needed for running an important venue such as The Imperial War Museum. This visit was invaluable for a couple of students as they are looking to enter the working world in the leisure industry.

■ Moodle (Virtual Learning Environment - VLE) is now being used throughout the school. Moodle is an online computer programme which enables the students to access their classwork and homework at any time and can help the teachers track the progress of a student.

Praise for leisure centre plans – but costs double

HAVERHILL Leisure Centre is to close for a year in June for an "overdue" £5.2 million facelift to bring it up to date with the new cinema and restaurant complex being built next door.

The finished centre will include new wet and dry changing rooms, reception, ground-level pool viewing area, and dance area as well as an extended fitness suite.

However the scheme's cost is twice the amount that had originally been planned.

Details of the upgrade were unveiled on Monday by members of St Edmundsbury Borough Council's leisure services department and Abbeycroft, the firm which operates both Haverhill and Bury St Edmunds leisure centres for the council.

Work on the Haverhill centre was delayed by a fire at Bury Leisure Centre, which meant it had to be almost completely rebuilt first. The Haverhill centre, which was built in the 1970s, has come in for much criticism over the years for having smelly and shabby changing rooms.

On Monday Councillor Lynsey Alexander, St Edmundsbury's portfolio holder for leisure, said she was pleased and proud of the revamp being planned.

She said: "It's well overdue and with all the work we can see is going on in the town – including the cinema – the

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

leisure centre will be a completely different place."

The centre will close on June 15 this year and re-open in July 2009.

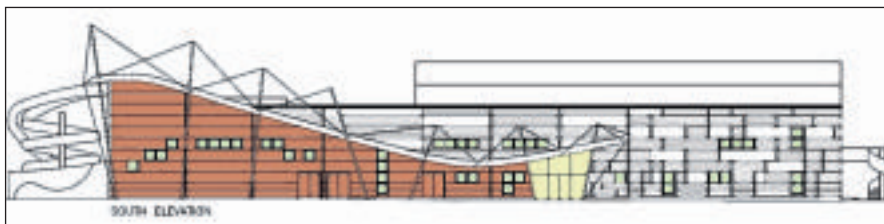

Warren Smyth, chief executive of Abbeycroft, said alternative arrangements would be made in the meantime to help people stay active during the closure, including the provision of a 40-station fitness suite in a "pod" building in a nearby car park.

The Astroturf pitches and tennis courts will remain open and Keep Active sessions could be moved to Chalkstone Community Centre.

Ivan Samms, of St Edmundsbury Property Services, said the work taking place was so extensive that there was no choice but to close the centre.

Although work was not planned on the swimming pool itself, it would be surrounded by scaffolding for duct work and other tasks, and the changing rooms, which would be have to be completely gutted, would be left without any heating.

Howard Cook, of St Edmundsbury leisure services, said the centre was very well used, but the building was in need of a total refurbishment, including behind the scenes work like replacing its boilers, wiring and entire building control system.

■ NEW LOOK . . . an artist's impression of the refurbished leisure centre. The existing site will be closed for a year while building work gets under way – at a cost of £5.2 million.

Moving bus target for stone vandals

STONES were thrown at a moving bus at Haverhill, smashing two of its windows. The incident happened at Greenfields Way, Haverhill at 7pm on Monday, February 4, when stones were thrown at a double decker bus. There were no reports of any injuries. The offenders are described as white, one was male and wearing a dark blue coat, the other a female around 10 years old wearing a white coat. Anyone with information should call Pc Stuart Wilson at the Haverhill South Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Stolen car on fire

A GREEN FIAT Punto car which was stolen from a street in Haverhill was later found burnt out in West Wickham. The theft happened at Chims-well Way, Haverhill between 7.45pm on Thursday, February 7, and 6.20am the next morning. Anyone with information about the incident should call Pc Robert Bunton at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Cash and cards stolen

THIEVES stole an elderly woman's purse from a hand-bag on her mobility scooter.

The incident happened as the woman was shopping in Queen Street, Haverhill between 12.15pm and 12.30pm on Saturday.

The purse was later found but cash and cards were missing.

A woman appeared to be following the victim, and is described as in her late 20s to mid 30s, of slim build with olive skin and dark shoulder length hair.

She was wearing a camel coloured coat. Shoppers are reminded to keep bags on their person at all times.

Anyone with information should contact PCSO Les Scott at the Haverhill North Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Judge upholds verdict on man who threatened to kill witness

BY Jo Deeks

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A MAN who threatened to kill a witness at his trial has failed to get his conviction overturned.

At Ipswich Crown Court on Friday, a judge and two magistrates also refused to dismiss the sentence imposed on Craig Bull.

Bull, 18, of Elmdon Place, Haverhill was convicted in September at West Suffolk Magistrates Court of making threats to cause fear or harm to another.

The appeal hearing was told that following a trial in May last year Bull had been found not guilty of possessing a bladed article.

One of the witnesses for the prosecution said his involvement had led to Bull making threats against him in front of friends.

The witness had been in High Street, Haverhill one afternoon in June when Bull, accompanied by a friend, had approached. Bull identified to his friend that he had been the witness who gave evidence against him.

The witness, who had been showing his new puppy to a friend and her mother, said that Bull went on to make a threat to kill him for what he had done. "It scared me," he said.

Stephanie Sprowson, who had been standing with the witness, told the court: "I heard somebody shout something like

'Don't worry, I'll get you' towards him." She said the witness had appeared "shocked and scared" and stood trembling until they went into a nearby cafe.

Afterwards as they walked to meet Ms Sprowson's mother who was parked in the High Street, she said the witness appeared worried and kept looking round.

Giving evidence in support of his appeal, Bull admitted that he and a friend had walked from his home into Haverhill town centre on the day of the alleged incident "to look for girls, basically".

But he said after 45 minutes of walking around the streets without meeting anyone, they had returned home to watch a film on TV.

He denied having any contact that day with the witness and said claims he had made comments and threats towards him were untrue.

"If I had shouted, other people would have heard," said Bull. By the time the alleged threats had been made at about 3pm, Bull said he and his friend had left the town centre.

He said he was able to be sure of the time because he had been texting, using his mobile phone and had checked it.

■ CHEER AND CAKE . . . Captain Stuart Ashman with volunteers celebrating the fifth anniversary of the Salvation Army shop. Picture: Keith Jones 466587.

Centre's sweet taste of success

VOLUNTEER Glen Puxley baked a special cake to help celebrate the fifth anniversary of a community shop and resource centre at Haverhill. The town's Salvation Army set up the charity shop, second-hand furniture outlet, and resource centre five years ago in Gloucester Road, Haverhill, and it has grown from strength to strength.

Mr Puxley, 24, who lives at nearby Parkside, helps in the shop and has just started up his own cake-making business after finishing university and made the cake as his contribution to the celebrations. He said: "I think it is really good, you can get some really good stuff in the shop and it gives local people a place to meet. I think we need more things like it in this area."

The shop is run by Lynne Pordage, Vicki Barcroft and Claire Grossman, along with a team of volunteers. Monday coffee morning sessions are held from 9.30-11.30am, and new visitors can try the first week free. Free legal advice is available at Law for All sessions on Friday afternoons and appointments can be made at the shop or by ringing (01842) 760878.

Captain Stuart Ashman, said the shop and centre had been a success and encouraged more people to go along and use it. He said: "We are still here. We have a team of 30 volunteers and there are computers and meeting rooms available that people can use. "A lot of people thought we would be here for six months and then go, but we were always here for the long haul."

Unlucky pub gets revamp

HAVERHILL'S newest pub – which has only been open for just over a year – has closed for a month to re-open in a new format.

The Haver Arms near the by-pass, is currently a Sam Baxter's pub, but closed on Monday to re-open as a Harvester Restaurant in March.

A spokesman for the national pub chain Mitchells and Butlers, which owns the venue, promised a "great pub and dining experience".

The pub has been dogged by misfortune since it opened in December 2006, closing after just nine days, when a mini-tornado took off the roof of a nearby hotel, shutting its access road.

Its licence was also invalid as it was granted by the wrong council.

After announcing poor national trading figures Mitchells and Butlers has been selling off or re-branding some properties.

Charity begins at home with heartfelt proposal

CHARITY worker Cheryl Law's heart leapt when her boyfriend finally said "yes" to the Valentine's wedding proposal she stuck in a shop window.

The 40 year old could not wait for February 29 – the traditional leap year day for women to propose – to get her partner of 12 years, Peter Skipp, to make an honest woman of her.

She put a heart-shaped message proposing marriage, in the window of the British Heart Foundation shop where she works.

The cryptic message read: "The Jam: Bruce Will You Marry Me, Liza".

Cheryl said: "I didn't want the world to know what I was doing, in case Peter said no, so I used two different names from songs by his favourite band, The Jam.

"He saw it when he came to collect me from work. He knew what it meant immediately.

"He kept me waiting a week for a response, the rotter. But he couldn't help it.

"I live in Haverhill and ■ HEART TO HEART . . . above, Cheryl Law with the love messages and inset Cheryl with fiancé Peter.

he lives and works in Buntingford so it was a full week before he could make it back to the shop to post a message of his own."

The couple's first step will be to get a place of their own. Neither of them have been married before.

They first met as teenagers. Peter, now 44, is the best friend of Cheryl's best friend's brother.

"We had a fling when we were younger but it came to nothing," said Cheryl. "Then, 12 years ago, I was in an unhappy relationship. It prompted me to contact Peter out of the blue. We've been together since."

Angry villagers launch petition to save surgery

ANGRY villagers have launched a petition against plans to close their surgery.

Around 150 people packed Kedington Community Centre for a public meeting attended by doctors and practice manager Marion McLaine, from the Christmas Maltings and Clements surgery, as well as MP Richard Spring.

The practice, which faces massive budget cuts of close to £300,000 over the next five years, plans to close its Kedington surgery to save money and because it does not meet clinical standards or have a computer link to the main surgery in Haverhill.

Terry Wheeler, Kedington Parish Council chairman, said: "People are very angry, it is mostly the elderly and infirm who will be affected. Because of the lack of public transport it will become very difficult for them to see a doctor."

The parish council has also questioned the logic of Suffolk Primary Care Trust's recent announcement of plans for a new £800,000 walk-in health centre in Haverhill when cuts to GP budgets are leading to closures of village surgeries.

As well as Kedington, Thurlow's surgery, which opens every Tuesday lunchtime, is also planned for closure in April.

Residents are urged to sign the petition and to write letters on the issue to Mr Spring at the House of Commons.

He said: "I can entirely understand the concern.

"Closure will greatly impact on elderly and infirm residents, as well as young mothers.

"It is not always easy or possible to travel into the town to meet a doctor's appointment with very limited public transport."

School meal provider is at starvation point

SCHOOL meals subsidies from Government have been slashed in Cambridgeshire and the county's meals provider faces a £1.3 million debt.

■ FOOD FOR THOUGHT ... Ed Balls, Children's Secretary, urges training for school dinner ladies.

The revelation comes as Children's Secretary Ed Balls announced a multi-million pound drive to train school dinner ladies how to cook healthier meals.

Mr Balls said the School Food Trust would receive £21 million over the next three years to improve the quality of school dinners.

But Cambridgeshire Catering Service (CCS) – a trading division of the county council which provides school meals – is expected to be £1,331,000 in debt by the end of the financial year.

CCS has seen a significant reduction in the take-up of school meals since the controversy generated by TV chef Jamie Oliver's national campaign against junk food three years ago in his series Jamie's School Dinners.

The problems are compounded by the fact that Government cash provided to the county council for school meals is being cut, effectively reducing what it can spend from 50p per pupil to 44p a head in the coming financial year.

Cllr John Reynolds, cabinet member for corporate services, said: "There has been significant pressure on catering because of the need to respond to Jamie Oliver and other things."

"They were all doing the right things – we are not complaining about that but it has created pressure. We have had to deal with that pressure and how we respond to the needs of young people and schools."

"We want to make sure children eat healthier meals at school."

"We all support that. But it has come at quite a cost."

CCS serves about 13,000 school dinners daily and these cost pupils £1.85.

A recovery plan has been drawn up to increase the primary school meal take-up from 31 per cent to 34.8 per cent by the end of 2008/09 to raise an extra £114,000 to reduce the current deficits.

A council spokesman said: "The 50p to 44p reduction reflects the reduction in the amount of grant we are receiving from Government next year."

"It's the Government's cut, not the county council's."

"The county council is in fact increasing the amount of money it spends on school meals (on top of Government grant) by 7p from 53p per meal to 60p, yet we are increasing the price by only 5p from £1.85 to £1.90."

The problems faced in Cambridgeshire come as Mr Balls launched the new school FEAST network of training centres for school cooks, backed by Government funding and public support from renowned chefs Raymond Blanc and Prue Leith.

Mr Balls said: "School cooks are the heartbeat of our school food revolution – transforming lunches and children's health."

"They do highly skilled jobs, giving millions of children nutritious dinners every school day."

"These centres and our continued funding means they can brush up their skills or learn new ones, so they can prepare meals for their whole schools from healthy, fresh ingredients."

Speaking at the launch Ms Leith, chairwoman of the School Food Trust, said: "School cooks play such a vital role in the health and well-being of our children."

The school FEAST network will help provide them with the training and skills they need to progress."

Musical note to help save wildlife

FEARS that some wild animals could become extinct have prompted a couple to make a CD to sell in aid of wildlife conservation charities.

Brenda and Paul Oakley-Carter, of Boyton Close, Haverhill, were inspired by a poem written by Brenda's father, Ted Carter, who lives in Scotland.

Paul is a musician and set the poem, Call of the Wild, to music and recorded it as a CD.

Now the couple are looking for people with the expertise to help them make more copies to sell and raise as much cash as possible for the David Shepherd Wildlife Foundation and the Born Free Foundation.

Brenda said her father wrote the poem after watching a wildlife programme and realising that wild tigers could be extinct within his lifetime and that only 5,000 are estimated to be left.

Paul contacted his friend, singer Dave Millard, who agreed to record the vocals for the CD.

Brenda said they were also concerned about the plight of other species, such as small black rhinos, which are being slaughtered.

"We want to make people more aware of what is happening and to raise money to help the groups working out there. They desperately need money to cope.

"My dad has always loved tigers and when he wrote this beautiful poem it seemed a good idea to use it. We give £7 billion to charity in this country, but only 0.5 per cent is to animal charities. I know some people will think it is only animals, but we have to look at the big picture and if they and their habitat are wiped out it will eventually affect humans too."

The couple would like to get local organisations and schools involved and anyone who can help should ring (01440) 709397.

■ INSPIRATION . . . musician Paul Oakley-Carter and his wife, Brenda, have recorded a CD of a poem written by Brenda's father to raise funds for wildlife charities.

Elections for vacant seats

AN election will be held at Haverhill next month for the vacant seats previously held by the late mayor Ted Trebble.

Councillor Trebble, who died after spending six months in hospital then suffering a second stroke from which he did not recover, represented the Haverhill North ward on St Edmundsbury Borough Council and the South Ward on Haverhill Town Council.

The election will be held on Thursday, March 20, and nomination papers for the borough council seat must be delivered to the Returning Officer, Borough Offices, Angel Hill, Bury St Edmunds, Suffolk, IP33 1XB no later than noon on Friday, February 22.

Forms of nomination for the borough election may also be obtained from the returning officer at Borough Offices at the same address in Bury St Edmunds.

Forms of nomination for the town council election can be obtained from the clerk to the parish council or the returning officer at Borough Offices in Bury St Edmunds.

French fight

SEXUAL manipulation makes for a thrilling plot as Dangerous Liaisons is staged at the Brickhouse Theatre at Cambridge's Robinson College next week. The play is set in pre-revolutionary France and chronicles the battle between the Marquise de Merteuil and the Vicomte de Valmont. It was used as the inspiration for the Hollywood movie, Cruel Intentions.

The play opens next Wednesday and runs to Saturday, February 23. Tickets are £4-£6 on the door.

Lives collide to entertain Mr Sloane

JOE Orton's Entertaining Mr Sloane comes to the ADC Theatre in Cambridge next week. The student production opens next Tuesday and runs until Saturday, February 23, at 7.45pm.

The black comedy was first staged in London in 1964 and follows the dashing young Mr Sloane as he moves in with the middle aged, sexually frustrated Kath. Kath's overbearing brother Ed arrives on the scene and is attracted to the handsome lodger and hires him as his driver. The plot thickens as Kath's father Kemp turns up and recognises Sloane as the man who murdered his former boss. A cat and mouse game of identity ensues as the characters become even more emotionally involved with dark consequences. Tickets are £6-£9. To book call (01223) 300085 or visit the website www.adc-theatre.com

Taxi mum picks up new musical angle

By Nik Shelton

BRIT soul star Gabrielle comes to the Cambridge Corn Exchange later this month.

She's made fans wait more than three years for her new album, Always. And they were also kept hanging on for 2004's Play To Win, which followed a five-year break from her triple platinum selling Rise.

"I always take my time," she says. "I've been doing what I've always done in between albums. When I'm not making music I'm looking after my son, doing the school run and dropping him off at football. I saw a cab firm recently called Gabbi's Cabbies and I've nicked the name because it suits my life. "I go to the studio every now and then but I would be lying if I said I was in the studio five days a week because I'm not. Sometimes I feel I can't write because I feel like I've lost my mojo and then other times I come up with something and I think, 'I've written this before, I need to go away and experience something real'. I've always been that way."

Her live showstopper is the title track from Rise, which went to number one in 2000 and features a sample from Bob Dylan's

■ TAKING HER TIME . . . Gabrielle will be at the Corn Exchange on February 25.

Knockin' On Heaven's Door. Dylan reportedly liked the song so much that he allowed her to use the sample for free.

It's a trick she's followed up on the new album with the track Why, which brazenly pilfers from Paul Weller's Wild Wood. But the Modfather was as pleased as Dylan was and even popped into the studio to help out.

"After writing Why my producer got really excited and said, 'Can we get Paul Weller involved?' and I said, 'Don't look at me, I don't know him'.

"But then before I knew it a couple of weeks later there was Paul Weller himself in the studio with his guitar looking fierce and fine and playing wickedly. I was totally in awe, he's a living icon. But he was lovely, he came in, had a chat, had a laugh and then he was gone. We were just left thinking, 'Wow!'"

Nicking bits from other people's songs is usually the terrain of hip hoppers who create new soundscapes from sampled material, but for Gabrielle it's simply a way of honouring her inspirations and influences.

"If I take a piece of music and do something completely different with it it's not because I think I can do it better, I just love the song and it inspires me to do something else. That's how songs like Rise and Why were born. I'm always looking for a new angle."

Gabrielle will be at the Corn Exchange on Monday, February 25. Tickets are £27.50. To book call (01223) 357851.

Scorpio Oct 24 - Nov 22
You could hear news of an impending birth. Everybody else is wild with excitement, but you're concerned. It's sobering to realise that your carefree days are coming to a close. It's only right to mourn this loss of independence.

Sagittarius Nov 23 - Dec 21
An end to a difficult family matter has finally arrived. You've got to face the truth of this situation. Admitting mistakes is never easy, but it's essential to leading a happier, healthier life. Join a club or team.

Capricorn Dec 22 - Jan 20
You may have been travelling a lot over the past few months. Fortunately, this trend will come to an end, giving you a chance to stay at home. If this prospect isn't pleasing to you, do something about it.

Aquarius Jan 21 - Feb 19
A source of income could come to an end and it could put you in a bit of a panic, especially if a big bill is almost due. Instead of concentrating on your lack of material resources, count your blessings.
To hear more call 0905 232 6057

Pisces Feb 20 - Mar 20
You're in the driver's seat where relationships are concerned. The time has come for you to take the lead and deal decisively with those issues that are preying on your mind and undermining your happiness.

YOUR GUIDE TO MOVING HOME

1 Moving home can be a complicated business and, in the hectic run to the big day, it is all too easy to forget something vital. The Property News offers their readers this handy checklist that should help avoid major pitfalls. We suggest you tick off the items as you deal with them...

WITH FOUR WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Get estimates from removal companies, checking that comprehensive insurance cover is available against damage or loss. Is there a packing and unpacking service? Confirm the date of your move with the firm you have chosen.
- ☐ Check on your home contents insurance policies to ensure that you are covered for the move, and covered at your new address.
- ☐ Make arrangements for your gas and electricity meters (plus water meters where relevant) to be read and all your appliances to be disconnected on the day of your move.
- ☐ Arrange to take over gas and electricity at your new address, and make sure that all appliances will be properly fitted, plumbed or connected.
- ☐ Notify British Telecom and ask them to make the necessary arrangements for a final account at your present address, and for taking over or installing telephone facilities at your new home.
- ☐ Arrange for change of address cards to be printed.

WITH TWO WEEKS TO GO:

- ☐ Confirm all arrangements, times etc, for meter readings, disconnections and reconnections, with authorities and with your buyer and seller.
- ☐ Make sure you have a good stock of packing materials, including sturdy boxes and plenty of string and sticky tape.
- ☐ Begin to throw out unwanted items from attics, wardrobes. What you really don't want you may as well dump now, or send to charity. It's a great time for a good sort out!

WITH ONE WEEK TO GO:

- ☐ Send off change of address cards.
- ☐ Arrange and pay for automatic redirection of your mail by the Post Office.
- ☐ Cancel and pay up accounts for routine delivery services such as milk, groceries, fuel and your Cambridge Evening News. Re-organise these deliveries for your new address.
- ☐ Defrost refrigerators in preparation for move and, if you are moving a freezer and its contents, turn it up to maximum for a couple of days before you move.

WITH ONE DAY TO GO:

- ☐ Complete your packing except for those items you are likely to need overnight, and prepare a picnic for moving day.
- ☐ Have a large enough cash 'float' available to deal with unexpected expenses, and make sure you have collected documents and valuables together in a safe place.
- ☐ Cover carpets which are being left behind, so as to minimise damage during furniture removal.

HAVERHILL WEEKLY NEWS

MOTORING

Proton's vehicles are highly likely to hold their value

GOOD news for car buyers looking for a bargain in 2008 as the Proton Satria Neo follows in the footsteps of the Savvy and the Gen-2 by being announced as one of the vehicles most likely to hold its value.

According to the latest Parker's Guide the Satria Neo was placed within the top ten slowest depreciating cars for 2007. Desirability, reliability, style, reputation and mileage as well as the original cost are all key factors in determining how much a brand new car is likely to depreciate in value.

When considering which car brand to purchase, as well as looking at residual value, which in the competitive hot hatch market varies widely from 28 per cent to 50 per cent of the list price, consumers are also recommended to take into account the additional ownership costs that occur throughout the life of the vehicle.

The combination of very competitive list prices and strong residuals makes the Satria Neo an enticing package. With strong styling, eye catching looks and high levels of specification which include air conditioning and MP3 compatible radio/CD player as standard, there are many reasons why customers should consider the Satria Neo.

With prices starting at just £7,995 for the 1.3 SX model and £750 off the 1.6 GSX, the Satria Neo is stylish, practical and affordable and, thanks to the collaboration with Lotus, it offers a great driving experience.

Proton's general manager for sales and marketing, Simon Park, said: "Not only does this achievement reaffirm the Satria Neo's position as a desirable car which offers a great driving experience, it also gives potential customers added peace of mind when considering their purchase. For a car which boasts such a high specification along with the Lotus input the Satria Neo is hard to beat."

Kieren Puffett, the editor of Parker's Guide, said: "Proton might not be one of the obvious brands people think of when it comes to cars that lose cash slowly. But the fact that the Satria Neo is a new model and is relatively inexpensive in the first place means drivers haven't lost much money to depreciation during the first year of ownership, which is a pleasant surprise for anyone who has one on their drive."

It's Tiguan all the right boxes

NOT even its sharpest critics could accuse Volkswagen of rushing into things, so when most makers are already on Mark II of their family four by fours, VW comes up with the Tiguan.

This is very much a roomy deliver-the-kids-to school sort of car which possesses surprisingly useful ability off-road. It is made with the usual levels of VW care and quality and is about what you would expect in terms of VW price – £19,000 ish to more than £24,000.

However there is one groundbreaking feature which comes as an extra (of course) but which will appeal to men and women alike. Whereas other cars feature a rearward TV view for ease of parking the Tiguan goes one better. You get the view from a tiny rearward mounted camera,

■ ABILITY... on and off-road!

FIRST DRIVE

VW's crack at 4x4 whip

but the car actually does the parking for you!

This best-ever party trick requires iron will on your part not to interfere – at least for the first three or four goes. You press the parking button as you drive past a parking spot. The car then tells you if it is big enough to get the car in. Then engage reverse, TAKE YOUR HANDS OFF THE WHEEL, and drive the car slowly backwards.

It will do all the twiddly bits with the precision of a works driver to slip the car into the parking space as neatly as a hand into a glove. You emerge looking smug and totally confident – the sort of manoeuvre ladies could well execute with satisfaction in front of building sites.

It costs an extra £450 and is factory fitted and in my opinion is worth every penny.

Initially the Tiguan will be available with two engines, a 2.0-litre diesel and a 1.4-litre petrol. Later comes a 168bhp diesel and a pair of petrol units. Both six-speed manual and Tiptronic automatic boxes will be offered.

■ THE VOLKSWAGEN TIGUAN... welcome entry to the crowded off-road field.

The off-road system is actuated by a single press of a button. VW use a Haldex four wheel drive layout which uses hydraulic pumps to send the drive to ground based wheels if one or two happen to be pawing the air. Driving the car in countryside, which I did not know existed, off the end of Luton airport runway, I discovered the Tiguan would slosh through about a foot of water with ease, clamber over some terrifying metal ramps and creep along a 30-degree slope.

You are unlikely to encounter these on the way to school but if you did it is nice to know the car can cope.

Inside the Tiguan is roomy and comfortable with rear doors which open wide and offer excellent access. There is a generous boot plus flexible rear end to make the Tiguan an ideal family vehicle capable of towing a horse box off a muddy field or getting your boat to water.

BASICALLY...

A better than never, if late, newcomer to the family 4x4 field which will certainly appeal to VW enthusiasts of all breeds – housewives/husbands, district nurse, vet, doctor, farmer, turkey breeder and estate foreman.

Skoda launches replacement for Fabia Estate – from £9,360

MOTORISTS in the market for an estate will be able to buy Škoda's new Fabia Estate which is now on sale.

The compact load lugger, which costs between £9,360 and £13,775, represents a blend of value for money and practicality thanks to its 1,460-litre stowage potential.

Insurance groupings that start as low as 2E for the 1.2 HTP (70bhp) Fabia Estate 1 and a consumption figure of 60mpg combined (1.4 TDI 80bhp), should also help keep running costs to a minimum.

Škoda's network of nearly 130 retailers is expecting big demand for the new model. More than 30,000 examples of its predecessor were sold between 2001 and 2007 and the 2008 version looks certain to do even better.

■ PRACTICAL LITTLE NUMBER . . . Skoda's mini-estate is expected to sell well.

Used high milers still a no-no

THE one used car we don't want to buy is . . . a high mileage one.

That's the verdict of to British trade price guide publisher EurotaxGlass's, which says potential buyers are continuing to walk away from second-hand vehicles with higher mileages.

Adrian Rushmore, managing editor at EurotaxGlass's, which publishes Glass's Guide, the trade's pricing bible, says: "There remains a stigma attached to a used car with more than 100,000 miles, and many owners avoid passing through this psychological barrier during their period of ownership for fear of instant devaluation."

The company compared the trade prices and mileages of more than 200,000 vehicles, identifying a steady increase in rates of depreciation as mileage readings rise.

The analysis indicates that, for the average three-year-old car, the highest falls in value are apparent between 60,000 and 100,000 miles.

EurotaxGlass's used as its benchmark a three-year-old car with a typical 40,000 miles. If the same make, model and age of car had covered 50,000 miles, the trade value would four per cent lower.

However, from 60,000 up to 100,000 miles, the financial penalty increases to five per cent for each multiple of 10,000 miles.

"As soon as a car passes the 60,000 mile threshold, the penalties increase because perceived desirability falls," says Rushmore.

Using the same example of a three-year-old car, beyond 100,000 miles the additional fall in trade value for each 10,000 covered reduces from five per cent to three per cent and this figure drops again, to two per cent after 200,000 miles.

EurotaxGlass's also found that cars with below-average mileage do not benefit from an improvement in trade value comparable in scale to the penalty incurred where mileage is above average.

Again, taking the example of the typical three-year-old used car, for each 10,000 miles under the expected 40,000, the trade value improves by just two per cent.

Historically, higher mileage diesel cars shed less of their value than petrol cars with the same mileage, but this is now no longer true says Rushmore.

"The price adjustments for diesel cars in respect of mileage now generally follow the same pattern as petrol cars. Up until 18 months ago, the penalties for diesel models were smaller, but then, so too was the supply."

If you're looking for an accurate used car valuation, where exact mileage is taken into account, you can download a valuation report from www.glass.co.uk for £3.50. Users receive a comprehensive valuation assessment which reflects the specification and possible condition of the car (Excellent, Average, Below Average) and also includes a dealer retail price and a private sale value.

But another big worry for used-car buyers is the mileage – is it genuine? It isn't always easy to spot if a car has had the odometer altered, but do look for tell-tale signs – worn pedal rubbers for example.

Also take a good look at the driver's seat, and a low mileage car with a tatty seat should ring alarm bells. Do try to buy a used vehicle with a checkable service history, which will contain mileage pointers.

The arrival of a diesel option will increase values of used Subarus

LEADING trade price guide publisher EurotaxGlass's has been examining the future used-value prospects for Subaru's first-ever diesels.

The introduction by Subaru of its first-ever diesel engine looks set to boost sales, and improve residual values for the Japanese brand's product range in the UK, according to the used-car experts at the Glass's Guide publisher.

The growth in registrations of diesel-powered cars continued unabated last year, they say, with oil-burners taking more than 40 per cent of UK new car sales.

Though late to the diesel party, Subaru expects to benefit from the addition of these new variants, the first of which – the diesel Legacy – arrived in the showroom this month.

"Diesel models will enhance Subaru's appeal to fleet operators, high-mileage drivers, and the eco-conscious, all of whom will recognise the advantages of better fuel consumption figures and lower CO2 emissions," comments Jason King, head of market intelligence at EurotaxGlass's.

"Once these models reach the second-hand market, we expect that they will generate significant interest and achieve higher residual values than we have seen from Subaru for some time," concludes King.

■ THE OUTBACK . . . diesel option can only enhance Subaru's appeal.

Education

Education Officer CEN1449

£27,316 to £36,951 dependent on experience

The Wellcome Trust Sanger Institute has an expanding scientific programme dedicated to using natural and experimental genetics to understand the role of genes in health and disease.

The Communication and Public Engagement programme promotes understanding of the nature, discoveries and wonder of science and its implications for individuals and society. Programme staff work closely with Sanger Institute researchers to stimulate public interest in biomedical science and encourage informed discussions of relevant issues. These close collaborations also help to foster a community of scientists who can effectively engage with the public.

The Education Officer will develop and deliver activities and programmes for educational audiences (students aged 14+ and their teachers) about contemporary genetic research and issues. He/she will work closely with scientific and public engagement staff to test, adapt and produce innovative resources for visiting and remote audiences. The Education Officer will consult and collaborate with educators and curriculum developers to ensure that resources are appropriate to the community's changing needs.

The candidate should be a dynamic educator or communicator with advanced written and verbal skills and the ability to plan and manage their own work to agreed standards and deadlines. You should have a biological science background and experience of working closely with teachers and students in an educational facility. The candidate will have demonstrated his/her enthusiasm for and ability to engage audiences with complex scientific concepts and issues.

The successful candidate will be IT/ICT literate, have a working knowledge of the 14-19 UK curricula and must be able to work a flexible workweek, as the role requires occasional weekend and evening work. Knowledge of/experience of networks within the UK formal and informal education community is desirable, as is experience in training and developing staff.

We offer a comprehensive range of benefits including a final salary pension scheme and excellent on-site facilities. Further details can be found on our website <http://www.sanger.ac.uk/careers/jobs/>.

To apply for this position please email your CV (including 2 referees) and current salary details, quoting reference CEN1449 to: recruit@sanger.ac.uk

Or post your application to: Human Resources Department, The Wellcome Trust Sanger Institute, Genome Campus, Hinxton, Cambridge, CB10 1SA,

Research Assistant -Tissue Culture Ref CEN1514 £16,892 to £21,115 dependent on experience

The Wellcome Trust Sanger Institute leads the world in genomic research, with an expanding scientific programme dedicated to understanding gene function in health & disease

With the completion of the human and mouse genome sequence, attention is now turning to the functional analysis of genes in mammals. The generation and analysis of mutations in mice is one of the new flagship programmes of the Sanger Institute. With funding from the European Union and the National Institutes of Health, we are undertaking an extensive effort to generate targeted mutations in mouse embryonic stem (ES) cells that will form part of the an international effort aimed at mutating over 95% of mouse genes by 2011. Newly developed, high throughput gene targeting methods will be used to disrupt the function of thousands of genes in mouse embryonic stem (ES) cells. The resulting mutant ES cell resource will be made freely available to the scientific community and used to interrogate the function of genes relevant to human biology and disease.

We are seeking highly motivated individuals to carry out gene targeting experiments in mouse ES cells. This will require routine culture of ES cells, transfection of ES cells with plasmid DNA constructs and picking, expanding and cryopreserving targeted ES cell lines. Other duties include maintaining accurate records of all procedures undertaken and data generated, requiring basic computer skills.

A degree in biology and some laboratory experience is essential along with basic computer skills and good communication skills. Experience with mammalian cell culture is desirable, but not essential. These positions will require flexible hours and occasional weekend work, with time off in lieu.

Salary range £16,892 to £21,115 dependent on experience. This position is fixed term until 31 August 2011.

We offer a comprehensive range of benefits including a final salary pension scheme and excellent on-site facilities. Further details can be found on our website <http://www.sanger.ac.uk/careers/jobs/>

The Wellcome Trust Sanger Institute has a legal responsibility to ensure that all employees are eligible to live and work in the UK. For academic and research vacancies or those that require highly specialist skills and qualifications we will often be able to obtain a work permit for a suitably qualified applicant who is not currently eligible to work in the UK, if there are no suitable 'resident' (i.e. European Economic Area - EEA) candidates. However, for vacancies that are not academic, research or highly specialist it is extremely unlikely that a work permit would be granted.

To apply for this position please email your CV (including 2 referees) and current salary details, quoting reference number CEN1514 to: recruit@sanger.ac.uk

Or post to: Human Resources, The Wellcome Trust Sanger Institute, Genome Campus, Hinxton, Cambridge, CB10 1SA.

Department of Engineering

Chief Mechanical Workshop Technician

£21,682 - £24,403 pa

Full Time

Limit of tenure: 3 years from date of appointment

Based at the Whittle Laboratory, we are an internationally leading research group in aerospace and are in the process of upgrading our manufacturing capabilities. Most of our work is concerned with jet engines. You will be a key member of the technician team and will use CAD and CAM software tools to produce computer models of parts that are to be manufactured and then set-up and operate CNC machinery to manufacture the parts. In addition you will provide advice and guidance to staff and students in these areas. You should have experience of operating CNC machinery and in the use of CAD and CAM software. The work is varied and interesting and the available range of CNC machinery includes rapid prototyping, EDM and waterjet cutting. An appreciation of aerospace engineering would be beneficial. Some training will be provided.

Educated to HNC or equivalent level qualification in mechanical engineering together with relevant practical experience.

Please quote reference: NA002984.

Chief Mechanical Workshop Technician

£21,682 - £24,403 pa

Full Time

Limit of tenure: 31-12-2010

Based in the Whittle Laboratory, we are an internationally leading research group in aerospace and in particular gas turbines. Working as a member of the technician team, you will design, construct, modify and maintain experimental apparatus. The work is varied and interesting and the workshop is well equipped with a good range of workshop machinery and is currently being updated.

You should possess a sound instrument / tool making background and be capable of working from engineering drawings, rough sketches or verbal instructions. An appreciation of aerospace engineering would be beneficial but is not necessary. Some training will be provided. Educated to HNC or equivalent level qualification in mechanical engineering together with relevant practical experience.

Benefits include 40.5 days holiday per year, flexitime working and the option to join the University's pension scheme.

Please quote reference: NA002982.

Closing date for both posts: 3 March 2008.

Application forms and further details of both posts can be obtained from Katey Gillinder, Department of Engineering, Trumpington Street, Cambridge, CB2 1PZ. (Tel: 01223 332700, email: workshops-office@eng.cam.ac.uk or via the copy of this advertisement on the Department's web site: <http://www.eng.cam.ac.uk/admin/jobs.shtml>

Part-time Receptionist/Switchboard Operator

Starting salary range £8,280 to £8,598 per annum
(full-time equivalent £13,926 to £14,461 per annum)

The Babraham Research Campus is the home of the Babraham Institute which is world renowned for its research in life sciences that leads to new medicines and treatments for human diseases. Babraham Campus Services Limited (BCS) is a wholly owned subsidiary of the Babraham Institute and provides employment opportunities in the support services of the Institute.

We are looking for a new member of staff to join us as a receptionist/switchboard operator in the afternoon to provide a friendly and efficient service for staff and visitors. Hours of work are from 1.00 p.m. to 5.30 p.m. Monday to Thursday and from 1.00 p.m. to 5.00 p.m. on Friday, totalling 22 hours per week. Due to the busy demanding nature of the role, previous experience in a similar role is essential; you should also be computer literate and have experience of using Microsoft word, internet explorer and e-mail. Excellent communication and interpersonal skills are also essential. Whilst this position is offered on a part-time basis, it is a requirement of the postholder that they will provide cover for the annual leave (and where possible sick leave) of the other part-time Receptionist.

Application forms and further details are available electronically from our website (www.babraham.ac.uk) or by contacting our 24-hour Recruitment Line on 01223 496365, or e-mail: babraham.personnel@bbsrc.ac.uk. Limit of tenure: 3 years

The University seeks to appoint a Research Development Officer with a specific remit to support Principal Investigators within the Departments of Earth Sciences and Geography, institutions within the School of the Physical Sciences. The Research Development Officer will play a key role in seeking out new funding opportunities and facilitating cross-departmental and cross-school research collaborations. This involves working closely with academic staff in both Departments, existing and potential sponsors, senior administrators within the School, and the University's Research Services Division. You will be expected to build links and networks with academics and research support staff in other departments and schools within the University and also externally. You will also contribute to the production and interpretation of management information on research income and assist Departmental Research Committees in formulating policy and strategy related to external research income.

Applicants should have at least a Bachelor's degree in Geography, Earth Sciences or a related subject, although education to Masters or PhD level is desirable. You will need to be a confident negotiator and able to effectively communicate (both written and verbally) complex technical and contractual information at all levels. As a team member you will work flexibly in all areas of research support within the departments, as appropriate. You will need to facilitate networking and cooperation between academic staff for the purposes of research collaboration. Excellent IT and numeracy skills will also be needed. You will need to be self-motivated, to initiate ideas, to respond flexibly and sensitively to the needs of others, and to prioritise work to meet deadlines by means of effective time management skills. Prior knowledge of UK and European Research funding policy and mechanisms, HE and research council policy issues would be desirable.

The post is full time with tenure of 3 years in the first instance, and will be based in both Departments on an equal time basis. The post is available immediately. Further particulars are available from Ms Andrea Turrell (ast22@admin.cam.ac.uk) to whom applications including a PD18 form, a CV, a covering letter and the names and contact details of three referees should be sent, electronically. Please quote reference: LA03005. Closing date: 3 March 2008. Interview date: 13 March 2008.

From Housing to Supported Living, Granta has long developed specialist accommodation for those needing care and assistance. Our 400 care staff working across the Eastern Region complement their professionalism and integrity with an innate ability to listen to what each resident has to say, whilst also meeting their needs 24 hours a day.

PROJECT MANAGER (REF: 011)

£24,297 - £26,584 PA DEPENDING ON EXPERIENCE AND QUALIFICATIONS

(PAY AWARD PENDING)

FULL-TIME, 37.5 HOURS PER WEEK

FRESHFIELDS, WATERBEACH

You'll take day to day responsibility for managing our Waterbeach scheme, providing care and support to people with a learning disability. Leading a team, you'll also look to identify areas where service improvements could be made. Appropriately qualified (ie RMN, CQSW or NVQ level 4 in Care Management), you'll have a year's experience of acting as a deputy or interim manager in a similar scheme. A willingness to work flexible shifts, including weekends and sleep-ins, is essential.

For an informal discussion about this post please contact Daphne Adams (Area Supported Housing Manager) on [01223] 576756.

HOUSING ADMINISTRATOR (REF: 015)

£16,296 - £18,009 PA DEPENDING ON EXPERIENCE (PAY AWARD PENDING)

FULL-TIME, 36 HOURS PER WEEK

HEAD OFFICE, COMBERTON

Granta is a growing housing association with a long and successful history of creating affordable homes and supported housing across the East of England – and as an accredited Investor in People since 1997, we offer careers that give you the support and opportunities you need to grow with us.

If you share our passion for getting the best for people you'll find your feet quickly here. Your word processing and computer skills will be put to good use in a role that offers real variety through a range of administration, secretarial, payment processing and switchboard responsibilities.

You'll be joining a friendly and professional team where your ideas and suggestions on ways to improve our service will be welcomed.

ACTIVITIES CO-ORDINATOR (REF: 013)

£13,434 - £14,794 PA DEPENDING ON EXPERIENCE AND NVQ QUALIFICATIONS

(PAY AWARD PENDING)

FULL-TIME, 37.5 HOURS PER WEEK

FEN ROAD, CHESTERTON

You'll work with a team to deliver a co-ordinated activity programme – one that's tailored to each resident's individual needs.

You'll come to us with a flexible attitude, willing (after training) to carry out moving and personal care tasks and to work a variety of shifts, including weekends. An effective communicator, you'll be adept at overseeing the work of others. An NVQ Level 2 in Care would be an advantage, though it's not essential.

For an informal discussion about this post please contact Mary or Andy at the Project on [01223] 425634.

SUPPORT WORKERS X3 (REF: 014)

£13,434 - £14,794 PA DEPENDING ON EXPERIENCE AND NVQ QUALIFICATIONS

(PAY AWARD PENDING)

FULL-TIME, 37.5 HOURS PER WEEK (OR PART-TIME HOURS CONSIDERED)

FEN ROAD, CHESTERTON

You'll carry out a range of care tasks for residents, including preparing meals, dressing and personal care. If you have experience of providing care and support for people with learning disabilities, great, however it's not essential. What you must have, is experience of helping individuals with their care needs – be they emotional, spiritual or physical. Able to work equally well on your own or in a team, you'll also be willing to work flexible shifts, including weekends and sleep-ins.

For an informal discussion about this post please contact Mary or Andy at the Project on [01223] 425634.

Visit www.grantahousing.org.uk to apply online or download an application pack. You can also view full details of staff benefits.

YOUTH FOOTBALL ROUND-UP

By George, Eldred is three-goal hero

Withersfield U8 3
West Wratting U8 6

WRATTING went into this game knowing that the quality of the opposition could put an end to their winning run.

After a good start by the visitors, George Eldred added to his tally of 17 goals in six matches with two venomous strikes early on to put the Wratting 2-0 up.

This rattled Withersfield, but, after a dominant spell, they pulled themselves level going into the interval all square at 2-2.

Wratting went back into the lead when Eldred completed his hat-trick with the goal of the game, beating three players and launching a shot from distance leaving the goalkeeper with no chance.

Withersfield battled back and drew level and could have found themselves in front, only to be denied by Iron, in the Wratting goal.

Two well-delivered corners from Fellows put daylight between the two sides, Cordwell getting on the end of one and the other cannoning off a defender.

Fellows then sealed it late on with a rasping free-kick, giving Wratting a hard-earned victory against tough opponents.

Elsenham Youth U10 0
West Wratting Yellows U10 1

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 10E

THE visitors opened brightly with Charlie Ellam's powerful goalbound shot being deflected in by a defender to give the visitors the lead.

James Woodward, in goal, along with man-of-the-match Callum Dray and Liam Gibbs, in defence, played superb to keep Wratting's goal intact, while Jake Murphy, Matt Carpenter, Scott Bishop and Dion Whitrid took it in turns to provide the midfield heroics.

Upfront was the same, Ellam, Jack Harvey, Leyton George and Charlie Ripp all had good efforts at the Elsenham goal in the quest for a second. The first half finished at 1-0 to the visitors.

Wratting had the vast majority of the second half as well, combining some very nice passing football aligned with hard work.

Grampian Gunners U10 0
Saffron Walden U10 5

CAMBS MINI LEAGUE, DIVISION 10E

TOP-OF-THE-LEAGUE Saffron Walden visited on the back of 10 straight wins, but it was an even contest to watch.

Grampian's man-of-the-match Lewis Knightly, Bailey Cassidy, Jason Moore and George Mustoe defended well, and, with Toby Daly, Josh Matthewson and Mitchell Forshaw playing counter-attacking football, an end-to-end half finished at 0-0.

The second half saw Grampian concede two very quick goals, so they had to change their shape to try to get back in the match.

Lewis Whiting was superb on the left, creating some great chances, which were very well saved.

Jack Ferguson sent some good crosses in but Walden's keeper was fantastic.

Another end-to-end half saw Walden score another three, while Grampian had chances, including a Forshaw free-kick, which fizzed just over at the end.

■ Grampian Gunners are recruiting current Year 5 boys, for more information, please call Neil on 01440 763000 or visit www.grampiangunnersfc.org

Sawston U9 7 Hundon Hawks U9 3

HAWKS were second best in every department in this encounter.

Sawston raced to a 4-0 lead in the first period and added two more without a reply in the second.

A goal each from Hawks' captain Milo Holmes, Branham Ince and Jake Ryan gave the score line a respectable look but Sawston still managed another goal for a final score of 7-3.

GOLF

A Classic effort from victorious Chandler

THE featured weekend competition at Haverhill Golf Club was Sunday's Keith Brown Classic, which was a mixed stableford.

A delayed start due to frost saw the field tee off 1½ hours later than planned, but the warm, sunny day that developed helped the scoring along.

The leading score was 41 points, which was returned by Lee Chandler, who had a group of four hot on his heels, one shot adrift. These were led by Paul Bareham and Graham Kennedy, who took the minor places.

Leading scores: L Chandler 41, P Bareham, G Kennedy, E Baker, S Turner 40, M Macnamara 38, G Baird, M Calmet, S King, A Fish, A Softley, C Briggs, S Carr 37, D Whelan, R Tavener 36, A Spittle, M Kingle, K Ward 35.

■ Only six ladies turned out for the mid-week LGU Medal and all of them were Bronze Division players.

The overall winner was Anna Fairhead (86), who was one clear of Jackie Condon and Gerry Wheatley, who both finished on 87.

■ The two winter foursomes events are reaching their latter stages with Jim and Denise Walker (mixed) and Peter Driscoll and Colin Bradnam (Touchwood Cup) awaiting opponents in their respective finals.

Top performer Bailey sets Wratting on way

Burwell Tigers U11 2
West Wratting Youth U11 5

WRATTING continued their unbeaten run to four games in a positive set of 11-a-side friendlies with an impressive performance against semi-finalists Burwell.

From the first whistle, Wratting dominated possession and, within minutes, Bailey diverted a Massie cross with a terrific header into the top left hand corner.

Burwell equalised with their first attack on 15 minutes before Wratting regained the lead, Foster thumping the ball home after Gedny and Lambert had opened up the defence from the right wing.

Scotton increased the lead just before half-time with a thunderous shot from the edge of the penalty area.

Ager, Ankers and then Payne worked their magic down the right to win a corner, which Lambert crossed well for Massie to meet the ball with a great shot, beating the keeper to increase the lead to 4-1.

Wratting pressed on, Elliott passed to Bush, who was felled in the box. But his resulting well-struck penalty was saved by the home keeper.

Wratting then conceded a penalty, which was stopped by Millar, who then saved well

Plucky Gunners give the leaders an anxious time

Hardwick Harriers U14 3
Grampian Gunners U14 1

CAMBS COLTS LEAGUE, DIVISION 14A

GRAMPIAN put in a much improved performance against league leaders Hardwick, but still came back empty-handed. One down at the break and two down just into the second half, it looked like the visitors were going to take a thrashing but the Gunners rolled up their sleeves and could and probably should have taken a point from this match. A fine goal from Jordan Jackson 15 minutes from time set up a grandstand finish with the home side under the cosh. Grampian could not quite get the second goal their play deserved and, deep into injury time, Hardwick scored again. Grampian manager Simon Youngs said: "It was better and we gave it a go, I cannot ask for much more."

from a stunning free-kick. Burwell pulled a goal back with a terrific run on to a through ball and a chip over the outstretched Millar, but this spurred Wratting on and Massie finished a Foster

Hundon Hawks U15 2
St Ives Rangers U15 B 1

CAMBS COLTS LEAGUE, DIVISION 15C

A BRACE of Shaun Hunsden headers kept Hawks promotion push on track in a hard-fought game. They dominated the first half, but failed to convert any of a series of clear chances to take a grip of the game. With Hawks' backline superbly marshalled by Todd Martin and George Wheeler, St Ives were restricted to just a couple of long range efforts before the break. The second half was more even, but two well-taken close-range headers from Hunsden put Hundon in command until a late rally and some sloppy marking allowed Rangers back into the game causing a tense final five minutes. Hundon are now unbeaten in six matches.

corner with another stunning shot from the edge of the area to seal the victory.

Wratting' man of the match was Leon Bailey, while Bill Bush took their opponents' accolade.

FOOTBALL

Rovers floored by sucker punch

HAVERHILL were left reeling by a last-gap winner for Needham Market in a victory, which put them back on top of the Ridgeons League, Premier Division table.

The defeat also means that Haverhill are now without a league win in three games, which has seen them slip to seventh in the standings.

The home side went in front 16 minutes in with a shot from 25 yards, but Colin Vowden managed to get in front of the Needham keeper to head home the equaliser from a Jamie Thurlbourne ball in just before half time.

Rovers dominated the second period with Nick Impey and Martin Westcott both having numerous chances in front of goal.

But the away side were punished for wasting their opportunities by a breakaway goal in the third minute of stoppage time.

Haverhill boss Steve Taylor was not happy after the loss, in a game he felt his team should have at least come away from with a draw.

Needham Market 2 Haverhill Rovers 1

RIDGEONS LEAGUE, PREMIER DIVISION

He said: "Their goal came from our throw-in and they just broke away and scored with the last kick of the game.

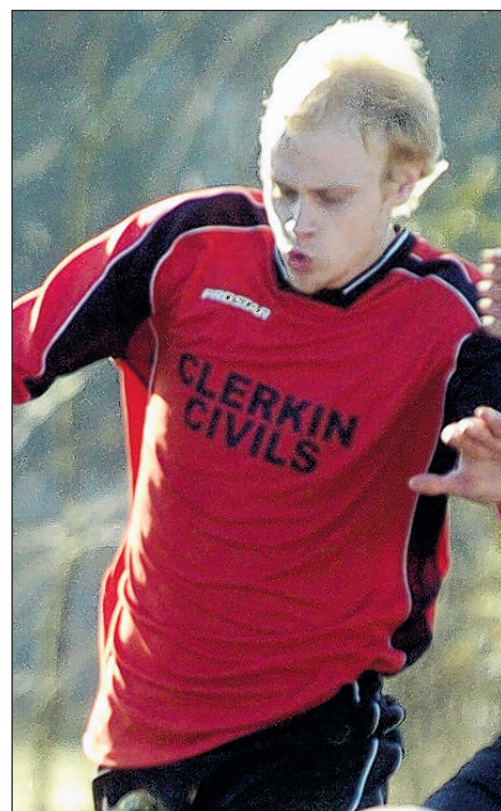

"We controlled the second half, but our finishing let us down in the end.

"I think we deserved at least a point from the game and I'm gutted not to get anything from the game, but I have done that to other teams before and you just have to accept that it happens in football and look to the next game."

Rovers will be hoping to avoid a fourth straight league defeat for the first time this season on Saturday when they welcome Norwich United to Hamlet Croft in what will be Haverhill's first home game in seven league fixtures.

■ LEVELLER
... Colin Vowden, whose equaliser for Haverhill Rovers at Needham Market was ultimately all in vain.

■ HAT-TRICK HERO ... Craig Cutts, three goals for Haverhill Bull.

Sad Lions tamed, while Angels' wings clipped

IT WAS a nightmare time for teams from the Haverhill area in the second round of the Treadfirst Sudbury & District Sunday League's Edan Trophy. Several local sides exited the competition, some on the receiving end of heavy defeats. Glensford Social Club knocked out Herbert Lions 6-2, while Haverhill Rose & Crown were hammered 8-1 by Lionhearts. Delaware Feather Angels lost 6-0 at Division Four Dragons. The home side went 1-0 up early on, and, soon after, they were awarded a penalty that Angels' keeper Adam Fielden saved brilliantly. This was to be the first of many excellent stops he made to keep the tie alive. Delaware defended strongly for long periods, and appeared to be denied a clear penalty when Mark Bailey was brought down within the Dragons' box. Following this, Dragons went onto score five further goals in quick succession in the last 20 minutes, to make their way through to the last eight of the competition. Woodlands lost 3-1 to Cornard Athletic, but one Haverhill side did progress as Mount Pleasant Reserves thumped Arrandean 9-0. Division Three Fingleaves got a good result in beating Cornard Hammers 4-1. Grampian Sunday are now under a month away from their Suffolk Sunday Trophy semi-final against Red Herring at Ipswich Wanderers FC on Sunday, March 9. They warmed up for the big day by securing a place in the Edan Trophy quarter-final with a good 4-2 win over Boxford Rovers Reserves. A Danny Hill hat-trick and a Lee Hurkett strike saw Grampian clench the victory. Melford Swan are also in the Suffolk Sunday Trophy semi-final on March 9 at Elmsett, but they made their Edan exit, losing 5-4 to Glensford & Cavendish. In the Sudbury & Haverhill Referees Charity Shield, Bayhorse were first round fallers, well beaten 5-0 by Haverhill Bull. An own goal, a Craig Cutts hat-trick and a Chris Claydon penalty put Bull through. In the all Haverhill derby, Haverhill United Old Boys beat Royal Exchange 3-1, while Lavenham beat Mount Pleasant 7-4.

TABLE TENNIS

A Gray day as Haverhill are trounced

HAVERHILL'S winning run in Division One of the Cambridge and District Table Tennis League was brought to an abrupt end when they were comprehensively beaten by reigning champions St George's.

Brothers Martin and Kevin Gray scored maximums to help the title-holders racked up a convincing 7-3 victory and stay in with a shout of retaining their crown. Steve Fisher, Reuan Williams and Richard Wells registered trebles as St Ives II thrashed Over 10-0. The victors also overcame NCI 7-3.

Three wins for Peter Laughlin guided Impington II to a slender 6-4 success against NCI III in the second division, while Alan Chambers and Ray Thorpe performed well in Priory's 5-5 draw with NCI III.

In Division Three, Haverhill II battled out a 5-5 draw with Over II.

In the same section, promising junior Daniel Fielding maintained his unbeaten record and led St Neots to an 8-2 triumph at home to Over II.

Bill Knibbs also claimed a maximum as Saints pushed their opponents nearer to the relegation places.

Fred Laband won three games to help Cambridge IV maintain their promotion push with a 6-4 victory over Sawston in Division Four. St Ives V have also got their eyes on a place in the third tier for next season and won a tricky fixture at Impington IV 6-4, largely thanks to Bernie Shannon's maximum.

And three wins apiece for Pat Nicholson and Callum Mitchum led St Ives VI to their first triumph of the season as they defeated NCI V 7-3.

Results – Division One: St Ives II 10 Over 0, Soham 6 Soham II 4, Haverhill 3 St Georges 7, NCI 3 St Ives II 7. Division Two: Priory 5 NCI III 5, Impington II 6 NCI III 4. Division Three: Over III 8 St Ives IV 2, Impington III 5 Over III 5, Haverhill III 5 Over II 5, St Georges IV 1 Impington III 9, Fulbourn 10 Soham III 0, St Neots 8 Over II 2. Division Four: Impington IV 4 St Ives V 6, St Ives VI 7 NCI V 3, Cambridge IV 6 Sawston 4, Impington V 5 Bassingbourn 5, Over IV 10 St Georges V 0.
